YOUR JOURNEY WITH DESTINATION BEAUTY

From the moment you begin your journey with Destination Beauty, you're never alone. As a Thailand-based medical tourism company established in Bangkok in 2006, more than 30,000 people from around the world have trusted us because they want more than surgery—they want support, reassurance, and a team they can trust.

Your experience begins by requesting a quote using your photos, allowing us to understand your goals and guide you through your options. Once you arrive in Bangkok, our team is there to welcome you, support you every step of the way, and ensure you feel comfortable and confident throughout your stay.

Your surgery is performed by highly experienced surgeons who specialise in facelifts, tummy tucks, breast surgery, and more at a large, modern international hospital.

After surgery, you'll recover in a comfortable 4-star serviced apartment. You'll attend regular nurse visits, including wound care, dressing changes, and post-operative check-ups. We call this our Recovery & Care Oasis, as it's where many patients say they feel the most supported during their recovery.

We're also excited to introduce our new Dental & Health Clinic at Somerset, offering even more ways to refresh, maintain, and enhance your transformation.

When you choose Destination Beauty, you're choosing a team that walks beside you from day one—making your transformation safe, personalised, and truly life-changing.

HOW IT ALL STARTS

Getting started with Destination Beauty is simple:

1. Request Your Quote
Send us your photos and tell us your goals. Our surgeons carefully review your case and provide a personalised recommendation and quote. Click here to start

2. Book Your Procedure
When you're ready, we'll help you choose your surgery dates, confirm your surgeon, and secure your booking.

3. Arrive in Thailand
From here, we take care of everything:

- All airport, hotel, and hospital transfers are arranged for you
- You'll attend your pre-surgery screening, consultation, surgery, and recovery at a high international-standard hospital
- Recover comfortably in your own spacious hotel apartment
- Attend your final post-operative check-up before returning home
- Fly home feeling supported and cared for

Our team handles the details so you can focus fully on your recovery.

Best decision I made!

I would look at every person who had a makeover and say to myself.... one day. Then I was like, nope, I want this so much so going to just do it. Best decision I ever did! Destination Beauty is so organised, so caring and the whole process just flowed so easily. I was looked after from the staff at the hospital to the staff at the hotel. It honestly was the best experience of my life. My breasts are perfect and my tummy tuck was even better than I imagined. Stop saying one day. Embrace the experience. There will be some pain but stay positive because the road ahead is amazing!! Can't fault anything about this company - Five stars

I had an absolutely amazing experience...

I had an absolutely amazing experience with Destination Beauty from start to finish. From the very first enquiry, the client management and communication with Noon was exceptional—she was responsive, reassuring, and made the entire process feel smooth and stress-free.

Dr. Weerachai was incredibly professional, skilled, and thorough. I felt confident and well cared for every step of the way, and the results and attention to detail truly reflect his expertise.

A special mention to Brey, who was absolutely amazing during my recovery. She consistently checked up on me, made sure I was feeling okay, and went above and beyond to ensure I was comfortable and supported. That level of care made such a difference.

Top to bottom, the entire experience was outstanding. I felt genuinely looked after and would highly recommend Destination Beauty to anyone considering treatment. Thank you to the whole team for such a positive and reassuring experience!

Destination Happy

I had breast augmentation revision surgery, replacing 27yr old implants. The experience was so much more manageable than my first experience here in Sydney.

At Destination Beauty I was fully supported and enjoyed every moment of my stay in Bangkok. The hotel was luxurious with wonderful friendly staff.

The hospital stay was terrific. Nurses were lovely and use of pain meds and anti nausea drugs very good compared to my first time with no pain management and no assistance with the nausea. I was very happy with Dr K. My breasts are much fuller and nicer now, so as am very happy with the results.

I felt fully supported my entire trip and the nurses and staff at Destination Beauty were always happy to answer questions or help in any way.

I meet many lovely ladies during my time in Bangkok and everyone was extremely happy with their results and their experience.

I would definitely go back should I ever need anything else done and would definitely recommend Destination Beauty for all your cosmetic surgery needs. They were truly fantastic.

I had an absolutely amazing experience with Destination Beauty from start to finish. From the very first enquiry, the client management and communication with Noon was exceptional—she was responsive, reassuring, and made the entire process feel smooth and stress-free.

Dr. Weerachai was incredibly professional, skilled, and thorough. I felt confident and well cared for every step of the way, and the results and attention to detail truly reflect his expertise.

A special mention to Brey, who was absolutely amazing during my recovery. She consistently checked up on me, made sure I was feeling okay, and went above and beyond to ensure I was comfortable and supported. That level of care made such a difference.

Top to bottom, the entire experience was outstanding. I felt genuinely looked after and would highly recommend Destination Beauty to anyone considering treatment. Thank you to the whole team for such a positive and reassuring experience!

I've had a wonderful experience with Destination Beauty. The representatives are really lovely to talk to, any questions I had were taken seriously, I was given options for which surgeon I preferred and given options to do calls with them.

On arrival to Bangkok, I found it easy to locate the transport - the hotel is immaculate with incredibly friendly staff and then pre testing was a breeze as well as early admission.

Thai hospitals should be teaching the rest of the world how to perform top standard treatment. I felt absolutely cared for and heard from everyone despite travelling alone, used google translate when there were the odd language barrier and made some incredible friends along the way.

Destination Beauty, Dr Weerachai and all of the staff on Ward 11 have made my dreams come true and healing at the stunning Somerset has been remarkable.

The gardens are lush, koi ponds, a pool to relax by, massages, beauty, the food is to die for - really immerse yourself in the culture and you'll see what a gem Bangkok and this experience is.

Best advice: learn a little bit of Thai for greetings, thanking and showing respect. It goes a long way. Huge thanks to Destination Beauty 🫶🙏

Amazing care - that's what was most important. This is my third time here and had one surgery in Australia where the surgeon just didn't care hence needing redoing and decided to go back to DB knowing they really take care with their patients. Even in my consult I was better informed than the surgeon in Australia

Lets start this review with a question. Should i go overseas for surgery or cosmetic surgery? YES, you can go overseas for surgery. I did, and are extreamly happy. Destination Beauty, Bangkok, is defnitly the way to go. I had 4 procedures done, the breast, was a replacement from old implants after cancer, and the other 3 was new procedures. The admin staff at Destination Beauty are very proffesional and very prompt with their replies, the nursing staff, they are so good in what they do, and so helpfull and kind. Then last but not least, the surgeons, are absolutley the best, the surgery cuts, looks like pensil lines, amazing. Then we go to after care, I am now nearly 3 months pos-surgery, and the staff, nurses, and surgeons still answer all my eamils, and queastions. I can recomend Destination Beauty with ease.

ABOUT US

Destination Beauty is a Thailand-based medical tourism company established in Bangkok in 2006. For 20 years, we've helped more than 30,000 patients from Australia, New Zealand, the United States, Europe, and around the world access high-quality cosmetic surgery, weight loss surgery, dental care, and skin treatments in Thailand.

What makes us different is the way we care.
Behind every patient's journey is a dedicated team of consultants, nurses, surgeons, service coordinators, and aftercare staff working together to make your experience smooth, reassuring, and personalised from start to finish.

You'll receive honest guidance, transparent information, and personalised recommendations based on your goals. Every surgeon we work with is experienced in their specialty, and our support team stays with you from your first enquiry through your recovery and after you return home.

We're continually growing, with expanded services including our Dental & Health Clinic and enhanced recovery support, so you can access more care in one place. At Destination Beauty, you're not just preparing for surgery—you're choosing an experienced team in Thailand that's committed to supporting you every step of your journey.

Disclaimer: Results vary between individuals. All surgical procedures carry risks. Please consult with a licensed medical professional to determine whether surgery is appropriate for you.
